Congratulations and best wishes to Jack Dyre and Spivey Kent, of Dyre-Kent Drug Company, upon their 18th Birthday being celebrated this week. By hard work and "stickability" these gentlemen have earned the success they have enjoyed.

It is sort of disheartening for a printer-publisher to have those to whom he gives publicity liberally, take their printing business elsewhere.

News just reached here that Clyde Horn, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Horn, of Grenada, was one of 17 in a group of 385 men in the Air Corps at MacDill Field, who passed both the alpha and the aptitude test, which is no mean honor for one of the home town boys. He has been offered promotion to the Weather Department, but has not yet accepted.

Congratulations to Miss Alyce Cook, former student nurse at Grenada Hospital, who recently passed the state board examination and is now a full fledged Registered Nurse. Miss Cook is one of those "aint they sweets" I write about all the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Art. Quantrell, with friends, enjoyed Monday evening in Memphis.

Florence Nightengale Day will be observed at Grenada Hospital on Monday, May 12th. A full program will be published herein next week.

Hon. S. A. Weir and Hon. S. H. Horton, member and secretary respectively of the local induction board, made a business (not political, we hope) trip to Jackson Wednesday.

Messrs. Byron Hunter, "Choppy" Andrews and Herbert B. Allen, and the writer attended a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Northeast Mississippi Council in Okolona Tuesday afternoon. This organization is designed to "do something" for this section of the state. In our opinion, one of the best things to do is to seek to consolidate our huge political strength to the end that this section, instead of the thinly populated South Mississippi furnish some men as governmental leaders. As it is, this section is the dog being wazged by the South Mississippi tail.

Mrs. Earl Bailey and Mrs. Etta Dudley spent Tuesday in Memphis.

George McLean, head of the N. E. Miss. Council is a clean, honorable, fair and intelligent gentleman who has devoted much of his time, means and energy is trying to do something. We consider him an ideal man for the presidency. To the other adjectives describing George we sincerely add the adjective, "unselfish."

Watch your step lest you be run over by a bicycle rider. Or, if driving, watch lest you run over a bicycle rider.

As we go to press Thursday afternoon, we learn with extreme regret of the serious illness of our life-long friend, Arthur Kettle.

The shovelbills and the top minnows had two bouts this week.

Isn't it ridiculous how congressmen and senators waste public funds in telegraphing every newspaper in the state about this and that appropriation? Each newspaper received three almost identical telegrams, all at poor Uncle Sam's expense. No wonder government costs so much money.

McKell spent most of the week in Augusta, Georgia on business.

dear peat la gran, i goss mr red briscow is outta ammunition fer he aint sed nuthin this week.

The GCV is one hundred percent for the newly organized C. of C. This organization under David Dubard and H. B. Allen will do great things if properly supported and if there is not too much impatience upon the part of those who want to put up ten dollars Monday and get back one hundred dollars by Saturday night. Miracles no longer occur.

We are mailing out notices this week of the subscription status of some of our newly delinquent subscribers. Please do not file these statements in the waste basket.

John Rufus Perry's mare, "Joann" won first place in Roadster under saddle at the Panola-Tate Horse Show Wednesday.

Don Moore, dean and sage of Cohen Lake, was a recent visitor.

MISS LAVERNE WILSON

Mrs. R. M. Smith Buried Last Friday

Mrs. Dick (R. M.) Smith, nee Miss Elise Rumph, died in Grenada Hospital last Wednesday night, April 23, 1941.

Mrs. Smith was born on April 18, 1867, at Camden, Arkansas, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Rumph. She was a graduate of the Camden High School and of the Emorywood College of St. Charles, Missouri. On June 5, 1890, she and Mr. R. M. Smith, of Oxford, were married. Soon after their marriage they moved to Grenada. Their home was the Rumberger old home about four miles northwest of Grenada, where they raised many of the beautiful hovers that were sold through their retail floral establishment, Grenada Floral Company.

Mrs. Smith was a lovely woman, one who possessed both intelligence and beauty. A splendid mother to her children, she found time to take very active part in the civic clubs of Grenada, as well as in the women's work in the Methodist church of which she was a devoted member. She helped organize the MacDowell Musicals and was its first president. She was also a member of the 20th Century Club. She has served as president of the Parent-Teachers Association. A talented musician, she was organist of the Methodist church.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. B. Thrower, pastor of the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. C. A. Pharr, on Friday, and burial was had in Grenada. Active pallbearers were Messrs. Fred Lickfold, Jr., Andrew Carothers, O. L. Kimbrough, Orley Lilly, McCune Talbert, Bryan Revell, Ralph Semes and John Bradley. Honorary pallbearers were Messrs. H. L. Honeycutt, Knox Pierce, Bob Sharp, Jim Horn, Clarence Bart, Harry Burkley, Claud Perry, L. D. Boone, Rogers Bart, J. T. Thomas, W. E. Jackson, Will Salmon, F. R. Lickfold, Sr., J. H. Neely, Sr., Ernest Penn and H. A. Alexander, and Doctors J. K. Ament, R. A. Clanton, J. S. Sharp, Sam Caruthers, F. S. Hill and F. A. Stacy.

Surviving Mrs. Smith are her husband, two small sons, Dick Smith, Jr., and Jamie W., an infant daughter two weeks of age, Beverly Ann; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Rumph, of Camden; a sister, Mrs. Charles Wilkins, of Mountain Pine, Arkansas, and a brother, James H. Rumph, of Camden.

To the sorrowful ones, we extend our sympathy.

Grenada Students Win State Honors

In the State Platform Contests at State College Friday, two Grenada High School pupils won distinction for themselves and for their High School. Miss Laverne Wilson won First Place in Expression over a group of twenty contestants from various parts of the State. Thomas Bell, a Senior in our High School, won Third Place in Declamation over the same number of contestants. This is an Honor that any school can be justly proud of and these two young people merit congratulations they are receiving.

Laverne Wilson is a 9th grade pupil in the High School and has always shown unusual talent in Expression. For several years she has been a pupil in Expression of Mrs. J. C. Hathorn.

Thomas Bell is President of the Senior Class and was one of the four Debaters who recently won State Champions in Debate. In the Regional Field Meet he won First Honors in American Government.

The Grenada Churches

By HERBERT B. ALLEN

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

"Repent ye; for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand." Those are the first words of John the Baptist as recorded in Matthew. Today the Baptist Church is an active, evangelized denomination, animated by the original zeal for the realities of religion evinced by John. Others may be concerned with more philosophical aspects of religion - but the Baptists direct their thought and their practices in the channels of the Lord's literal teaching.

In the First Baptist Church this community has a beautiful new edifice in which to worship. It is designed in the modern mode of architecture, but retains the attractive simplicity of the modern style without any of the too obstructive elements which tend to make modernism in design tiresome to the senses. The acoustics are excellent, and musical numbers, both instrumental and vocal, are heard to splendid advantage, and a most appropriate setting is provided for the supplied choir.

The morning sermon was delivered by Charles Edward Welch, of Memphis who is father of Mrs. Glen E. Wiley, the pastor's wife. The congregation extended a cordial greeting to Mr. Welch on the occasion of his first appearance in their pulpit.

The central thought of the sermon was the destructive of sin in personal and public life, and the uselessness of all palliatives short of salvation. Selfishness, stubbornness, and pride were condemned in private life. He pointed out that sin in public life kindled the fires of every war.

His, he agreed with Dr. Spurgeon, was to the human spirit, what cancer is to the human physique it erodes the soul. He decried the preaching of philosophical sermons and urged that salvation be emphasized with fervor and power. Mr. Welch personified before the congregation those earnest and sincere Christian pastors who are never forgetful of the true mission of the ministry, and his own message was presented with the power and fervor he advocates.

Mr. J. B. Perry, Sr. made the announcements and presented the Reverend Mr. Welch most appropriately as "Mrs. Wiley's daddy." We are sure he will be warmly welcomed on his return to First Baptist Church. The piano playing of Miss Mable Walker was especially appreciated.

Huge Fire At Belgrade Wednesday Night

About 11 o'clock Wednesday night, fire was reported at the mill of Belgrade Lumber Company, just west of the corporate limits, and this fire before being extinguished destroyed the entire mill except the boiler room, and also destroyed a number of freight cars nearby. It is understood that the loss was covered by fire insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown.

ARRINGTON TO SPEAK AT BIBLE CLASS DINNER

Mr. James Arrington, of Collins, will be the principal and only speaker at the annual supper of the Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist Church at 7:30 next Thursday evening, May 8th. Mr. Arrington is editor of the Collins Commercial, Covington county's only newspaper; he is mayor of his home town; he is a lawyer and is a speaker of the Rodgersesque school. The supper will be prepared and served by the ladies of the Baptist church. Mr. J. B. Perry, Sr. is teacher of this class.

Nearly 3000 People Entertained At Kraft Dairy Farm Saturday, April 26th

Third Place In Declamation

President Dubard of C. of C. Urges Cooperation

Dear Friends:

All of us feel that we live in a good town, but few of us realize that we owe anything for this privilege. Those who came before us were active in building of the town and they left something for us. It is now our privilege as well as our duty, to continue the work and leave a better town for those yet to come.

Forests are being depleted by those who are in the wood industry; the soil is being depleted by our farmers. The merchant, as well as the industries and all professions, have benefitted thru this depletion. Therefore it is incumbent upon all of us to replace this with something of equal value.

If your taxes have been heavy, they will indeed be more burdensome with each succeeding year, due to the defense program and government spending. So if we are to maintain our present standard of living, we must necessarily increase our income. To accomplish this, we must have additional industries and increased pay rolls, and these can be secured only through a VERY ACTIVE AND PROGRESSIVE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE supported by you and every other citizen interested in the continued growth of Grenada.

A Chamber of Commerce will cost money, and within a week you will be solicited for a subscription. Do not growl at the fellow who solicits you, as he is trying, through his efforts, to give something back that he has taken from your town.

All the money spent in Grenada on a Chamber of Commerce, since the Civil War would not equal the benefits received from the local hosiery mill for the past three years, to say nothing of the years to come.

Show your appreciation of the privilege of living in a free country and in a good town by greeting the solicitors with a smile. Tell them that you appreciate their efforts for they are working FOR YOU.

Sincerely yours,
DAVID DUBARD.

Belhaven Choir At Presbyterian Church Last Sunday

Lovers of sacred and patriotic music had the privilege, on Sunday evening, last, to enjoy a wonderful program produced by singers from Belhaven, the Presbyterian College in Jackson. The Presbyterian church where the program was rendered was filled to almost to capacity. Thirty-eight voices, including those of two Grenada girls, Misses Helen Horton and Gene Marders, and conducted by Mr. James B. Wallace, rendered the following program:

Organ Meditation.
Processional of Choir.
Hymn—"America."
Invocation—O Holy Father—Pales trina: Come Sweet Death—Bach; Hall Holy Star—Grieg; Send Forth Thy Spirit—Schuetky.
THE CHOIR
Scripture Lesson.
Prayer.

On Saturday, April 26th at the Kraft Dairy Farm north of Grenada on Highway 51, the Kraft boys, entertained their friends and neighbors right royally to the tune of nearly three thousand persons. To show their appreciation to John and George for their splendid interest, commercially, financially and scientifically, in the field of dairying and related interests, Grenadians of all walks of life thronged to their farm all Saturday evening and night. Breathing space was at a premium.

The beautiful and vivacious, Mrs. John H. Kraft was present, and ably supported her husband in fact Mr. Kraft recessed into the background somewhat after Mrs. Kraft came into the picture.

Governor Paul H. Johnson, himself interested in dairying, sent a personal message to the Kraft Brothers, in which he expressed his special interest in and personal admiration of their operations in Grenada county.

Mr. Kraft, a jovial and able executive in the world of big business, spoke in friendly vein of his interests, and ambitions in Grenada county. Mrs. Kraft expressed some very pleasing compliments in our direction, and noted our lovely trees with the wisdom of one raised on the western prairie.

To Mr. E. H. White, Director of the State Extension Service the occasion was really a homecoming and he spoke to the members of the Farm Bureau assembled in the modern, new barn, as only Mr. White can speak on the subject closest to his heart - how to make money on the land.

Mr. Ransom Altrich, President of the Mississippi Farm Bureau received close attention as he spoke of practical points in dairying which mean the difference between success and failure. He emphasized that good pasture is the starting point in all dairying ventures, and spoke of counties in which there were actually more cattle than the pasturage of the counties could possibly sustain.

Grove Carver, President of the Grenada County Farm Bureau deserves special credit for the excellence of all of the arrangements, and for the most successful event among the farm people in many years. In his capacity as Chairman, E. L. Roteler handling the proceedings smoothly, and both gentlemen were a credit to the county of Grenada in handling the Kraft affair.

Herbert B. Allen spoke briefly as the representative of Grenada. He assured those present that the Chamber of Commerce desired to cooperate in a broad program if progressive measures with the farmers of Grenada County, and that methods of marketing their products would receive every consideration, and be pursued perseveringly.

Much credit is due our County Agent, J. L. Cooley, for his cooperation in coordinating the activities of all of those persons whose efforts made the Kraft opening a memorable event.

As visitors were present from all parts of Mississippi, and from a wide range of states from Illinois and Wisconsin to Georgia and Florida, the Grenada County dancers demonstrated true Southern courtesy by permitting the square dance honors to go to Prentiss, Guy James and the judges will be readily forgiven.

Several charming girls, members of the 4-H Club of Grenada County assisted the hosts with the serving of a delicious picnic supper between the hours of 6 and 7:30.

The sentiment prevailing as the crowd broke up at midnight was that everyone had such a grand time that something should be done about it, so that the Kraft boys would know just where Grenada County's heart is located.

GIRL RESERVES OFFICERS INDUCTED SUNDAY

The Girl Reserves of Grenada held a very beautiful installation service in the Baptist Church. The choir in white and blue uniforms sang a number of hymns. After a scripture reading and prayer the candlelight installation began. Mary Lou Cullen was installed as the new president; Louise Aveni, vice president; Lucy Moss, secretary; Carolyn Whitaker, song leader; Dorothy Talbert, pianist; Bernice Jones, membership chairman; Mary Elizabeth Horton, treasurer; Winifred Saunders, service chairman; and Jean Scott Burt, social chairman. Miss Haynes is the leader of this character building group.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

On Wednesday, April 23, Mr. Dollarhide was in charge of the chapel program. After Mr. Rundle gave a brief devotional, Mr. Dollarhide introduced the soloists and ensembles who played the numbers they will play in the contest at Jackson.

S. B. Cowan gave a cornet solo, "Estasy"; Brannon Anderson, Lynn Rose, Warren Robinson, and Johnny Mitchell, the mixed clarinet quartet, played "Repartee"; Milton McIlvain's bass horn solo was "Acrole"; Bobby Alexander gave a saxophone solo, "Nadine"; The drum duo, "Two of Us," by Bobby Weir and Frank Matthews was followed by Bobby Weir's solo, "Drummer's Delight"; Catherine Herring's clarinet solo was "Serenade"; The clarinet quartet, made up of Catherine Herring, Brinker Throver, Rogers Pleasants, and Joyce Fleming, played "With Gay Spirit"; Mary Elizabeth Cowan's alto saxophone solo was "Andante"; "Concert Caprice" was Benton Keeton's baritone solo; S. B. Cowan, Mickey Angevine, Albert Graves and Billy Parham made up the cornet quartet, "Evening Promenade."

The results of the band contest will be published as soon as possible.

At last, finally, and after many incessant demands that the legitimate staff of the "Bulldog" resume their rightful place, we return to you, after a triumphant season of curtain calls and talent scouts.

WASTE BASKET

Greetings! It certainly seems good to be back at work again on ye olde scandal sheet after so long.

Item number one that has been called to our attention by at least six people is that Rogers Pleasants was stepping rather briskly with none other than Jean Scott Burt.

Camilla Smith and Anne Odom are still in favor of S. J. C. boys, but it's two more boys this time instead of the same ONE.

Tommy Houston and Polly kept Billy Guy and "Turnip" company this Sunday night.

We never dreamed how romantic Ed McCormick could be until his dramatic impersonation of a love-sick professor. Maybe it was somewhat due to his leading lady, Miss Whedbee.

Lil York's new compact really puts her behind the "S" ball.

Congratulations to Mary Lou Cullen as new president of the Girl Reserves. We know that she will make a worthy and competent one.

Also, congratulations to those who have written such splendid editions of the "Bulldog" while the regular editors were making their triumphant debut on the legitimate stage.

Billy Townsend is seen around a lot.

We pause for a commercial: For your subscription to the yearbook deposit your money with Miss Turner at once.

But that the word said most during last week has been "Jackson."

And speaking of Jackson, there's more to T. W. Goodwin's trips to Jackson than just seeing a doctor. Her initials are "V. R."

We repeat: In the spring a young man's fancies lightly turn to what the girls have been thinking about all winter.

NOTICE: Please send all the Senior play cast fan mail in care of "Poor" Keeton, Line Street, as the rest of the cast would like to keep their mail-boxes for Hollywood offers only.

Wonder why Nellie Joiner finds it impossible to usher at the G. H. S. commencement? Winona wouldn't be having their graduation the same night would they?

Martha and Mickey seem to have a spot reserved for them under the trees at lunch period every day.

James Elliott and Catherine Herring seem to be on good terms again, but what about Bernard?

Welcome to James Hale who hails from Texas. We always did like cowboys, didn't we girls?

How about this triangle: Ed Penn, Betty Rule, Hurd Horton?

We want to put a certain article in about James Goodwin, but we're afraid our typist would censor it.

David Childers-Joyce Fleming.

L. D. Boone says his next conquest will be Bobby Gattis.

Mae Bailey and Andy Whitaker must be serious.

Will Horton's newest romantic inclination is the fifteen-haired Martindale.

Lucy Moss and Jack Ward are seen together quite often.

Saw Sybil Roane and "Dubb" Saturday... nice work Sybil.

Saw Kathleen Nall with Tommy Horton Sunday.

While we are speaking of Horton's we might mention Billy Horton at Dot Talbert, also David Horton and M. Fred Moss.

Many thanks to the faculty, the student body, and the town people who so generously supported the Senior Play. So long.

The Pendulum Has Shifted Too Far

Not so long ago, certainly less than 40 years ago, men working in factories had no choice except organization or feudalism. The 12-hour day was the rule in many factories. Conditions of labor were extremely poor. Shut-outs were common. Capital was riding high.

Public opinion, which after all is greater than any law, shifted its support to labor. Politicians shifted their support to labor, just as they are going to shift from labor if labor does not watch its step in this time of world crisis and national peril. It must clean itself of those who are squandering labor's hard earned support from public opinion. It must help render powerless those who because of greed or even foreign influence are holding now the battles of the dictators in some of the factories of the country. With the aid of the Government, the pendulum swung back until it has reached a point where, in the midst of the greatest peril in the Nation's history, labor challenges the power of the people to keep industries in operation to arm our boys who were commanded by the Government. These men, most of whom are honest patriotic citizens if they get their feet on the ground, are actually stopping the wheels of industry that must operate if the security of this Nation is to be preserved.

A 12-hour day often spent under bad conditions was too much. An 8-hour day spent under good conditions of labor, and especially when our democracy is in competition with the totalitarian states, is too short. Jesus Christ did not start to work at 5 o'clock and stop at 1 o'clock. Your boy and my boy in the army working for six bits to a dollar a day, does not enjoy an 8-hour day. We know one man from Grenada who does KP duty all the morning, drills all the afternoon, and works in the record department until 11 p. m. and gets six bits a day and board. No 1-hour day there, eh?

Americans are long-suffering. In our opinion, the time is now at hand when the pendulum, which represents public opinion, has reached the end of its arc, and will soon rapidly recede, and when public opinion will do something about the situation. (As we wrote this we heard over the radio where negotiators with the soft coal miners, who produce the most vital product in industry, had failed.)

Tail Wagging Dog

South Mississippi, with one-third of the population of the State, and with both Senators and the Governor from its territory, certainly furnishes a splendid example of the tail wagging the dog.

The counties of the state through which the A. and V. Railroad runs, together with all of the counties South of the line contain only 700,000 people. It should be recalled that within that area are Jackson, Vicksburg, Meridian, Natchez, Hattiesburg, Laurel and the Gulf Coast cities. Practically all of the so-called cities of the state are in that area.

Talking to some gentlemen who attended the organization of the Northeast Mississippi Council, recently, they stated that the members of this organization had become aware of this outrageous situation, and were going to do something about it in the future. The primary purpose of that organization stated bluntly, is to consolidate the political and economic influence of the northeastern quarter of the state—as has the Delta Council in its sphere—and do something to help that section.

Northeast Mississippi is the area North of the line of counties through which the A. and V. Railroad runs, and East of U. S. Highway 51. This area contains about 600,000 persons, most of whom are white. This area, containing the greatest number of people, has NEVER elected a Governor, and only one U. S. Senator and he was quickly retired by Senator Bilbo from South Mississippi.

Is it possible that the Northeast quarter of Mississippi which was settled several generations before the South Mississippi territory emerged from the howling wilderness, is indefinitely to play second fiddle to South Mississippi? Is the air of South Mississippi more productive of statesmanship, or are we of Northeast Mississippi just plain sapiens?

The delta section, predominantly negro in population, became tired of being the fatty grandmother of Mississippi, paying much and getting little. This section consolidated its political influence, sent good men to the legislature where they are recognized leaders, and has been able to "get somewhere," as it spoke with one voice. We say in the hills are so busy fighting each other that we permit our political strength to be dissipated, and get nothing.

We think it is none too early for the people of our section to begin to think along the lines of unification of our political strength.

Let's quit letting the tail wag the dog; let's permit the dog to wag the tail a while.

The Law

Laws are tragic jokes in Mississippi and, in a greater or lesser degree, all over the United States.

Here in Grenada county, we have two sessions of circuit court per year. Who is tried and who is convicted? Ignorant negroes and friendless white people. If, perchance, some man of any prominence whatever is ever convicted and sentenced, he will be pardoned ere he serves a third of his sentence. Personally we do not at the moment recall ANY white man of ANY prominence EVER being convicted of ANYTHING.

We enact laws, then promptly begin breaking them. We have a damn fool prohibition law which nobody observes, however hard the elected officers may seek to enforce it. Disrespect for THIS law breeds disrespect for ALL law.

There is nothing to be done about it. It's just an old American custom.

Comprehensive Plan Needed

It appeals to us as good business for the City of Grenada to avail itself of the opportunity presented by the existence of the WPA to modernize and extend its existing sewerage and water lines.

From our experience with the City, we know that for the past few years extensions and additions have often been made in a haphazard fashion. What Grenada needs is first, a good engineer to make a survey of present facilities and draw comprehensive plans to take care not only of existing Grenada but Grenada of 25 years hence. Then by hypothecating certain parts of its revenue from the Water Department, it can secure its part of the funds necessary in cooperating with the WPA in carrying to conclusion the plans made by the engineer.

By planning, or often no planning at all, have cost Grenada, as well as every other town or city in America, many thousands of dollars.

Many areas of Grenada—what we love to call The City Beautiful—have no sewerage and water facilities worthy of the name. These areas should receive sewer and water lines. The fly that eats his breakfast in some vile toilet in the poorer sections of the city will not wipe his feet and bathe his hands in Lysol before he visits up on Main, Margin or South Streets. Therefore we people who HAVE adequate sewer facilities cannot be too smug about it, for, as stated, flies know no home.

Playboys And Do Nothings

It looks like Joe Harrison, writing in The Cobb County (Ga.) Times concerning "Playboy" Reynolds of North Carolina, has something that might be applied with equal force to other Southern states:

We in Georgia may be plagued with Governors we can't do much boasting about, but at least we can take pride in not having elected to the U. S. Senate men of the Reynolds kind, though in my opinion that would be difficult indeed to do. I met the gentleman in 1934. He made a speech at a convention I attended. It was grandiloquent—and meaningless. It was, in short, a Reynolds speech, noisy but silly. Nor is this just my own opinion. In the audience were close friends of mine, and in the intervening years we have had many a chuckle over that speech. Meanwhile "Our Bob" has risen in notoriety if not in fame. But I still can't take him seriously until yesterday I read in Ralph Smith's column in the Atlanta Journal that Reynolds is in line under separate seniority rule for the chairmanship of the Committee on Military Affairs, through the death of Senator Morris Shepherd, of Texas.

As the man said who was about to be hung, "This will be a lesson to me," but I wonder if the lesson will be as painful to the country as it was to the man on the scaffold. "Our Bob" seemed until now a colorful, slightly foolish playboy doing nobody any harm. True, people of North Carolina elected him to a high and dignified office. Then time tricked North Carolina and through them the whole country. The lesson to us in Georgia and to everyone in the country is easily arrived at—to elect to office ONLY men of dignity and intelligence even if in doing so we must forego some entertainment on the speaking platform. Of course it is possible, and greatly to be desired, that the senate will set aside its self-made rule, as it did in the case of Senator "Pitchfork" Ben Tillman in 1913. If Reynolds does assume this vital chairmanship, the people of North Carolina will have only themselves to thank for it, and the rest of the country won't be a bit thankful to North Carolina. Let's hope that we in Georgia don't make similar mistakes when men come before us seeking to represent us.

Tragedy, Stark Tragedy

The old toilet at the courthouse, long the rendezvous of the social drinkers, has been boarded up. Inasmuch as it occupied space on the ground level, there was no danger of one who had limber legs and a slightly halting gait falling and injuring himself. With this ancient shrine, inferentially dedicated to Bacchus, if not legally dedicated to that jocular god, closed up, the social drinkers must now take the risky flight of stairs to the sub-basement toilets at great risk to life and limb, or, with equal if not greater peril to life and limb, climb to the semi-private toilets in the jury rooms upstairs in the court house.

The county board of supervisors should do something about this situation, and their attention, and that of Sheriff Hayward, custodian of the court house, are respectfully, invited to the president condition.

Good Work, Fornightly Club

The Fornightly Club of Grenada has rendered outstanding service in providing for the welfare of a number of underprivileged children attending the Elementary Grades of the City School. Every day for nine months fifty-nine children were provided with a half-pint bottle of milk. This alone amounted to 1190 half-pints for one month and this service is being given for 9 months. In addition to this, when it was learned that the Fair Ground District did not have sufficient tax funds to provide tuition for the ninth month, the Fornightly Club paid the tuition for thirty-one of these children so that a number of children who would have been deprived of one month of schooling are now receiving the benefit of the full nine months.

This is indeed a contribution to good citizenship that cannot be measured in dollars and cents, for many an underprivileged child has become a most productive adult citizen because of the attention given him somewhere along the way.

Me and the GCW.

The man who censors news from Britain certainly has a delicate job. He has to tell enough to keep America's sympathies at high pitch, yet not enough to make America gun-shy.

Congratulations to the Farm Bureau and to the Kraft interests for putting on the biggest event ever held in Grenada county, outside of Grenada itself.

UNDER THE OLD MAGNOLIA TREE

With Herbert B. Allen

Tupelo, Miss., April 25th 1941
Herbert B. Allen,
Grenada, Mississippi

My good friend, Mr. Whitaker, sends me occasionally his newspaper, and while most of the items are of local interest, nevertheless my mind goes back and I think of when we had a weekly newspaper here and somehow I enjoyed reading it. But this week I was so much impressed with your article, "Are You From Dixie?" that I felt that I must write you about it and let you know that it is going to become a part of my scrap book, which is the highest compliment paid by me to any piece of writing.

I sincerely trust that you will keep up occasionally such appeals to the youth of the South so that they may realize what a precious heritage they have. There was a young man in my office last week, a big stout ex-football player from Pennsylvania, who in the course of his attempt to sell me something, said he was going to keep out of the army as long as he could, and asked me if that wasn't my opinion.

I told him that my son had volunteered and gone long ago, and he seemed amazed and said: "Why would he volunteer?" I answered that with my boy it was simply the determination to uphold a tradition which had lasted since Captain Ned McClure fought the British and Tories in North Carolina, on through the years. But this young fellow could not understand such a thing.

Speaking of the memorial that Arkansas has erected, let me tell you the story and then I will quit. When Bragg's Army was camped at Tupelo, a lad from Arkansas died from wounds received in the battle of either Shiloh, or Corinth, and was buried near the Fulton and Tupelo roads. In after years the road hands would clean off the grave each year and had placed a little enclosure around it. One day I was going to Fulton to court with my father and the then Chancellor McFarland from Aberdeen and though I was but a child, I shall never forget when the two old soldiers reached this place they stopped the buggy, took off their hats and sat there for some time without saying a word and then drove on their way.

In after years, my father (Colonel W. L. Clayton) wrote a series of stories which were published in the Tupelo Journal, entitled "Ten Pictures of the Olden Times" and he tells about this boy being from Arkansas, and of the salute he always gave when he drove by the grave.

Sincerely yours,

Kind words are inspiration to

All writers, high and low—
Our thanks to you, Judge Clayton,
Of progressive Tupelo.

ECONOMICS IN GRENADA

Up until the era of the depression we used to consider that economics was a science. So many theories were exploded, and so many reputations in Wall Street and in the Universities were evaporated, that now we look askance at both economics and economists.

The Germans have done such successful acrobatics with old economic concepts, to the consternation of conservative schools of thought, that we begin to examine some of our most revered practices to see whether or not they may show symptoms of cracking.

No one has watched the financing of the armament program in Germany, and the financing of the present war, with such searching scrutiny as the financial world. Some magicians do it with glasses—the Germans do it with paper. Necessity is the mother of invention.

We have had Confederate dollars, and we have had German marks. In both of these currencies there is a world of sentimental remembrance. The new German marks of today doubtless contain as fine a quality of paper, and as excellent a grade of engraving to enhance their beauty, as characterized the old currency.

But behind the old marks the Germans had the will to depreciate their currency; and behind the present marks there is the will to make them perform financial miracles. There is nothing new under the sun, my friends. It is just a demonstration of the old truth—where there's a will, there's a way!

One of the things that often gives us courage in taking a position on controversial subjects (a great hobby under the Magnolia Tree) was an observation we made several years ago. There are three great experts in this country on the question of gold in relation to currency. These three gentlemen are employed by institutions as eminent as the Bank of England, and the Republic of China, as expert consultants.

In spite of their recognized qualifications, and their universal acceptance in the world of high finance, the thing that was most interesting to us was the fact that all three disagreed almost entirely on the subject of the utility of gold in currency systems.

Uncle Sam has a nice golden nest egg buried in the earth at Fort Knox, Kentucky. We have a sly suspicion that if this glittering metal took a sinking spell, and disappeared in the bosom of Mother Earth to reappear no more—and the American public were never apprised of the fact—it would have very little effect upon the price of peanuts in Falmehatchie, or the cost of carrots in Corinth

Our good neighbor, Mr. H. W. Baker, strolled over and took a chair in the cool shade of the Magnolia Tree the other day. Mr. Baker had steel on his mind, and he was quite anxious to be relieved of that onerous burden. Mr. Baker started something, for he brought, in addition to his friendly greeting, an idea!

Some really fine people can get excited over a grand slam, some over a cocktail, and others swoon over an intercepted forward pass. But we quiver with expectancy when someone unravels an idea. Mr. Baker had become annoyed "no end," as Londoners express it, over the fact that Birmingham, Alabama, deals out our good American steel, in the form of rails, for some twenty odd dollars per ton—while Germany sells us steel in the form of watch springs, for instance, at quite some advance over twenty dollars per ton! How much are watch springs per ton?

Making an effort to look as mentally competent as possible, we visited Mr. Fred Lickfold and asked the price of a ton of main springs (not installed)! Taking a main spring, which weighs only the weight of the light paper wrapper in which it is enclosed, Mr. Lickfold weighed one on a jeweler's scale. Then he began to figure. As Mr. Lickfold began to get slightly dizzy, young Mr. Lickfold tackled the problem.

After considerable incredulity, both arrived at the same total, by different computations. The price of a ton of main strings for watches, as closely as they could calculate it, was the modest sum of $2,304,000.00 (two million three hundred and four thousand dollars.)

We then decided to find out what becomes of cotton after it leaves our neighboring city of Greenwood, for over there they have nothing but the best—and the best is none too good for us! In Keeton's, we asked Miss Thomason to show us something in very fine materials—but it must be all cotton! We had not forgotten the subtle influence of the Memphis Cotton Queens who had so recently, and so beguilingly, reigned over our Public Square.

We selected a very lovely, sheer organdy—a Swiss importation at one dollar per yard. This was the lightest weight, all cotton material, of the very finest quality in stock. At the City Drug Store, the genial Cliff Davis, placed our organdy on an apothecary's scale, wrinkled his handsome brow, and then contrived some interesting results which surprised him more than then they did us: for we had already been badly fooled by the main spring experiment.

Our bale of ten cent cotton left Greenwood in exchange for a $50.00 bill. Leaving us via New Orleans, it had crossed the Atlantic to Rotterdam, Holland, traveled up the Rhine River to the Swiss border, then over the Swiss State Railway to Zurich, manufactured there into organdy, it retraced its course to Rotterdam, entered the port of New York, and arrived in Grenada in the form of organdy, priced at $5.50 per pound—or $4,250.00 (four thousand two hundred and fifty dollars) per bale.

We might employ some very learned language, if it were at our disposal, to describe the economic transformation of Greenwood's fine cotton into Mr. Keeton's fine organdy. Many operations and handlings entered into the final revaluation of those bolls of Delta cotton. But nothing could more eloquently plead the case for the necessity of textile industry in Grenada than the long journey to which our neighbors' cotton is so unnecessarily subjected.

We concede that the Swiss are good people, as are the Carolinians, the New Englanders, and others who manufacture our Southern cotton into fabrics for sale in Grenada. But our Grenada people need employment, and the business men of Grenada need more trade in order to prosper.

If only those Mississippians grew cotton who can profitably do so—and those Mississippians were engaged in textile manufacture who urgent require employment in industry, what a transformation we would witness in this Old Magnolia State. This would be the New South sure enough!

As we were saying, where there's a will, there's a way. What can be done in South Carolina, or Rhode Island, can be done in Grenada County. And we are not novices by any means. As a matter of fact, our neighbors in Greenwood would be green with envy, if they really knew what was going on at Grenada Industries, Inc. today!

This investigation, incited by Mr. Baker, settled another matter we have often pondered over unsuccesfully. When millady dons her lovely organdy gown, and her sweetest expression, she instantly acquires an air and a flair, which the ravishing creature employs with a criminal cunning and artful devastation. And why not? When we see cotton sweeping along gracefully to the tune of $4,250.00 a bale, we are seeing something brother! Indeed it is a sight to compel stunned admiration.

Oh, what I'd give to see
The one that's dear to me,
Under the Old Magnolia Tree—
In golden organdy!

NIGHT LIFE

We had the excellent fortune last Thursday night to arrive in Jackson, from way down South, in time to witness the marching contest of the Class D High School Bands. Young musical Mississippi was stepping high, wide and handsome, and we congratulated ourselves on the turn of fortune which brought us into the Auditorium.

Not having any idea that there was a band in Duck Hill, much less a good one, imagine our mingled pride and amazement to hear the judges pronounce a most honorable sentence on the young musicians, and their talented conductor and leader. The judges had a word for the merits of the Duck Hillers—it was EXCELLENT. Everyone in the auditorium, including their fellow contestants, heartily and blatantly agreed with their excellencies, the judges.

Let us tip our hat at a cocky angle toward Senatoza. There was a second lieutenant sitting next to us. He hailed from South Bend, Indiana. We feared for his sanity when Senatoza went to town. Senatoza was there with the old zip. If the elders of these young people, sparkling with life and animation, had only ten percent of the vibrant enthusiasm of their youngsters—boy, what a country we would have in North Mississippi. Thank you, Senatoza, for the thrill of the evening. Our Hoosier lieutenant insisted, "Put my money on the nose for Senatoza!" One boy, and four really elite of the Ole South's girlhood, did honors for Tate County in a memorable manner. Twenty-one guns to you, Senatoza!

I heard the blare of music
With a patriotic thrill.
When I saw the lads and lassies
Steppin' out for ole Duck Hill!

dere mr top, i gess yu an me r still outta poltericks.

My Column
Cpl. Whyte Whitaker Jr.

Hiram Lake Roane, better known as "Hoot", has really been sowing oats here of late and wild ones at that. At the rate, he has been going Uncle Sam will have to start sending him party checks on his crops. His expression after the dance was "We will have a nice time at the dance, didn't they." Quite a change in tense.

"Head" Turner kept the boys in until Sunday noon.

More selectees arrived this week and this should make our battery to war strength.

Private Hitt did not like Sgt. Gaston's idea of a "No-Break" at the dance, but everything is OK now.

We're certainly proud of one selectee who arrived this week, Private Bryan, who in civilian life was an employee in our Commanding General's Bank. This is quite a compliment to the 114th F. A. Regiment.

As usual the 114th Field Artillery is first again. This time it is on the recreational side. We were the first regiment in the whole 31st Division to have a dance at the Divisional recreation center last night. The girls came from miles around and a wonderful time was had by all. So far there are no reports of unsoldierly conduct and we don't think there will be. The 114th is jealous of its standing in the division, and we mean to preserve our reputation and set the sign of the "Dragon" up as a symbol of speed, accuracy and good soldiering.

It seems that Cpl. Schmitz is keeping the highway between Camp Blanding and Jacksonville hot. Here's more power to you, Corporal.

The title of the most "underfed and over-slept" man in camp went to Sgt. Theisman this week. He has his sleeping so well that he wastes not a minute of the day or night in exerting energy not required. It has won for him the name "The Sleeping Tomb" and his tent is known as the "Tomb of the Living Dead." After a hard night out on maneuvers, he was seen being led around in an effort to awake him, but the task was abandoned and he was tucked back in his bed and his breakfast was fed to him through a tube.

Cpl. Echols seems to have had a change of heart since the dance the 114th F. A. gave. His affections have turned from a blonde in Starke to a blonde in Palatka. One sure thing, even if he is fickle, he likes his blonde. T-L-U-L.

WANTED

A peg legged woman to wash potatoes in the Hdq's Btry. 1st Bn. kitchen. Steady work and good pay. Mess Sgt. Greenlee.

Sgt. Gaston was seen at the dance the other night giving all the girls from far and near a long deserved break. About half way through the dance, Sgt. Gaston walked over to the orchestra, incidentally, this orchestra is rated about the best in the Division, and remarked to one of the men in the orchestra, who had just finished "giving" all he had in a hot time, "You've got a nice little hand here fellow." Well, it was nice of him to let them know anyway.

Private Coleman said this is God's country. Nobody else would have it.

GASTON-DOLLITTLE

The personnel of Hq. Btry. 1st Bn. 114th Field Artillery wishes to announce the marriage of its little Staff Sgt. so as to keep down foreseen whispering and gossiping.

On Saturday night, April 27th Sgt. Gaston took unto himself a bride, the charming and snare-tooth Miss Dollittle, of Starke, Florida. The most Rev. Seelittle officiating while "Hoot" Roane played Turkey in the Straw. This lovely bride was attired in a Thirly dress and a beautiful pair of brand new tennis shoes. The scared groom wore khaki.

Mr. Dollittle was dressed in a new pair of blue denim and watched the procedure with his cap pistol.

Lynn Williams and Frank Toms accompanied the groom, the former being the best man, while the latter was along to pass out stimulants to avoid a nervous breakdown on the part of the groom.

It is from the depths of our hearts that we say, "good luck to you Charlie." May you never get on such a hot spot again. Congratulations, again.

P. S. Disregard the above, for it's a society write-up for a mock wedding.

UNCERTAIN

It is not certain that leaves will be granted May 3rd, for Divisional inspection will be held the 8th and 9th of that month. It seems that Master Sgt. M. M. Batson will be unable to attend Corporal Lane's wedding in which he is scheduled to be best man.

Total Army strength, as of April 17, 1941, was estimated at 1,210,000 men, according to official bulletin from the Public Relations Department, War Dept., in Washington.

The room in which I'm now typing are 26 brand new typewriters. These machines are used by members of the typing class.

Sgt. Jack Vance makes a trip to Jacksonville nearly every Sunday afternoon. He's as sly as a fox and won't let anyone on to what he is doing. We're going to appoint Pat Austin to investigate this matter.

Pvt. Edwin Thomas and Sgt. Jackson have gone into the auto repair business. Rubie James was their first customer fixing a left rear fender and repair on rubber goods upon their car, better known as furlough. The said mechanics are rather confused as to whether to present the bill to him in person or drop a repair bill. Down payment has already been made.

As luck would have it the 114th Field Artillery was the first regiment to have a formal military ball. This dance inaugurated a series of dances to be given here by the various regiments of the division. Some 300 young ladies were present for the dance.

These young ladies hailed from Palatka, Jacksonville, Gainesville, Lake Butler, Green Cove Springs, Starke and other adjacent towns to Camp Blanding. A soldier's life isn't all work and early hours, after all.

With that it were possible for the folks back home to be in Camp Blanding May 19th, because on that day, the 31st Division will step out in a Grand Review. Governors of the four home states are expected to be present, and thousands are coming to witness the event. This will be the first "all out" review of the Dixie soldiers, and they will demonstrate their progress made during the past five months of intensive training.

Our two very likable officers, First Lt. Branton and Second Lt. Baskin, are quite a help to this battery. Lt. Branton was a lawyer and Lt. Baskin a banker in civilian life. You can see we have very little trouble with our financial and legal matters.

A medical miracle was performed here at the Camp Hospital under the direction of Co. Poust, Camp Surgeon. A boy's heart was taken out and sewed up. He was rushed to the operating room where his heart was removed and three stitches were taken to repair a wound received from a bayonet when it accidentally came from the gun of a friend, mimicking bayonet tactics.

The big 155 mm howitzers of the 114th Field Artillery will "bark" for the first time since we've been in Florida. The rather flat terrain has made it impossible to fire these guns due to observation. Observation towers have been erected to observe the burst of shells some eight or ten miles away.

According to reports Corporal Sullivan has devised a new and much faster method of measuring the Y-azimuth to the object in question. He demonstrated said method to Captain Shaw during the regiment inspection Saturday.

"HOOT'S" CORNER
There is not much thought I have to give out this week in My Corner. This is partly due to the fact that I have been hampered and hindered all the week by my most honorable friend and fellow colleague, the "Top." He has an idea that it is dishonorable to be seen out after "Taps" on week nights, excepting Saturday. I have found this out much to my sorrow during the past week during which, of said week, I have stooped to the lovely pastime of superintending the scrubbing of the kitchen and numerous other incidents of a similar character. I have almost come to the conclusion that our "Top's" real name is "Kill-joy" Costlow. Of course, I don't mean to be casting any reflections on said party of the first part. But, you well know, that in each happy life there must be a stumbling block or two.

We see no necessity for delaying either employing or not employing the engineering firm, which has made a reasonable bid to evaluate the distribution system here and to estimate the cost of a new plant.

We think Granada Theatre should be congratulated for putting the ad agent Allen's speech Monday night, for this speech certainly did into Homer's attendance. He is a public spirited man, and this is one evidence of it.

With The County Agent

Our Central Mississippi Poultry and Egg Association composed of Grenada and six adjoining counties made its 1st shipment of eggs this week. One hundred cases (three thousand dozen) were shipped and it is expected that the price will exceed 20 cents per dozen. The price of eggs in the county has risen from 3 cents to 5 cents per dozen. This program will benefit all farmers that sell eggs, even those that don't ship, through the Association. Grenada county had 35 cases, which was more than any of the other six counties. Thirty-six of our farmers shipped eggs. Some had as few as two dozen eggs and one as many as nine cases (270 dozen). Mrs. Velma Neely, our Home Demonstration Agent, believes that our county will have approximately 60 cases next week. The association plans to make shipments every Tuesday of each week.

Cousin Grace Curver and wife were visitors in Grenada Monday.
